OUR EXPERTISE

AL FURQAN partners with global organizations to provide consulting service offerings to address both strategic and tactical talent acquisition concerns. Such engagements begin with the analysis of existing organizational processes and infrastructure and end with turnkey strategies delivered to the designated execution and integration resources. Building a high-performance team requires great expertise and knowledge from the executive search team and constant proactive involvement to understand the needs of clients. Hence, we have developed a time proven search methodology.

Our Strategic Search Process

“A Better Hire Starts with a Better Search”

Identification – Understand Your Company, the position and develop a search strategy

Target Recruiting – Meet with our search team to cast a wide net of target candidates' especially passive candidates by utilizing in-house database, various third party resources and references. We contact dozens of potential candidates.

Assessment – We screen qualified candidate ruthlessly and only present the best talent.

Interview Process – We stay engaged and help you secure the candidate and get them off to a good start.

Accepted Offers and Long Term Results – We take pride in matching clients with candidates which are “the right fit”. The result is our candidates stay for the Long Term and are top producers.
